From the Bridge: Commodore Ed Ochoa

By the time you read this, the Annual meeting will have taken place, and you will have new leadership on the Board of Directors. As I write this month's "From the Bridge," I reflect upon the September board meeting which took place last night. This year has been a success and the board you elected a year ago, achieved the results our membership was counting on. Thank you for your trust and confidence electing me to lead the club through the storm we were faced with. There is still much work to be done, but we are definitely in a better place now than a year ago, and on the path to grow. The club is now 80 years old, and I wonder what the next 80 years will bring? A heartfelt thanks to my fellow board members and trustees who helped get the "ship" sailing along smoothly again. And thanks to Michele Ryan, Club Manager, and the Galley Crew with their hard work, and the improvements they brought to the Food & Beverage side of the operation.

As a reminder, at our August Board meeting, we decided to go back to having member dinners on Thursdays instead of Fridays. The reasons we are moving back to Thursdays are threefold: First, Fridays were not a designated night for the membership, as dinners were called off if an outside group booked a party. Second, if not enough members called to make reservations, the dinner was cancelled. This kicked the legs out from under our members who were counting on having dinner at the club on Fridays. Finally, many of these same members stopped inviting guests on Fridays because, again, the dinners got cancelled from time to time, and they'd have to explain to their guests that dinner at the club was off. And the guests they invited may have become members. That said, Thursday evening will be a designated night for our members to come out for dinner and it will not be cancelled, regardless of the number of members who show up. Also, it is much less likely for Thursday evening dinners to compete for attendance with other events which take place on Friday evenings. Ultimately, the success of Thursday dinners will revolve around food quality and service. I assure you, if Michele and the Galley Crew continue to provide the quality dinners which they have done through the month of September, it will be a success.

As many of you likely know, Bill Hagler, who served the club as our manager and chef for eleven years between 1992 and 2003, finally lost his battle with cancer on September 5th. There will be a memorial for Bill at the clubhouse on November 4th. At this time, we don't know the details, just the date. We'll keep you informed.

Thanks again for electing me to serve the club as your Commodore. It has truly been a privilege. I look forward to having fun at the club with you all, our members, for years to come.

See you at the club,
